

A workshop on innateness in language

INNATENESS – WHO CARES?

March 30, 2022

The Hebrew University, LLCC & zoom

<https://huji.zoom.us/j/86016007115?pwd=V3NwQ2tKa3N4RGFDV2dRb3BuVm1BUT09>

- | | |
|-------------|--|
| 10:00–10:45 | ELITZUR BAR-ASHER SIEGAL
LLCC, The Hebrew University
The birth of the notion of innateness |
| 10:45–11:30 | IRIS BERENT
Psychology, Northeastern University
Why is UG such a hard question? |
| 11:30–12:00 | Coffee (served on venue) |
| 12:00–12:45 | EZER RASIN
Linguistics, Tel-Aviv University
Comparing theories of UG in phonology |
| 12:45–13:30 | JENNY CULBERSON & SIMON KIRBY
Centre for Language Evolution, University of Edinburgh
A new view of domain-specificity in language |
| 13:30–14:30 | Lunch (served on venue) |
| 14:30–14:45 | In memory of Edit Doron |
| 14:45–15:30 | IDAN LANDAU
Linguistics, Ben Gurion University
Two (very) different arguments for innateness in syntax |
| 15:30–16:15 | RICHARD SAMUELS
Philosophy & Center for Cognitive and Brain Sciences, Ohio State University
Why should we care about innateness? |

For further details contact

Outi Bat-El Foux (obatel@tauex.tau.ac.il) or Elitzur Bar-Asher Siegal (ebas@mail.huji.ac.il)